

NORTH PLATTE RIVER WILDERNESS

*25 - 38 miles Class III - Class IV
2 - 3 Days*

The North Platte is a mountain river. Set in a narrow canyon at over 8,000 feet, the North Platte runs crystal clear with the power of melting snows from Rocky Mountain National Park and other mountain ranges which ring the basin. One of the last true discoveries of river runners, the Northgate section offers a combination of intense whitewater at rapids like Northgate Falls, Stovepipe, Windy Hole, and the Narrows.

Trout fishing is hard to beat due to some extremely inaccessible sections we raft through. The surrounding area has a long history of Wild West stories of cattlemen who have made millions from the fertile land and still run some of the largest cattle ranges in the country from these valleys. Because of its mountain setting, it offers the clear water, pristine river corridor and solitude which make it a great float fishing trout river, complete with the excitement of some of the best whitewater in the west.

It is the most recently designated wilderness area in Colorado/Wyoming. Enter the world of the old west that James Michener wrote about in his book Centennial, the wilderness world of the North Platte for a trip of two or three days.

SEASON

May - July: The North Platte is a free-flowing snow melt river that can begin in early to mid-May and extend through mid- to late July depending on the year's snowpack and seasonal rains.

The highest water levels are in May and early June during the high snow melt period. The water normally levels out to a steady flow in mid-June for the best fishing season.

FLOAT NOTES

These float notes will help you prepare for your river trip. There is information on everything from travel and lodging arrangements, typical weather and menus to cancellation and refund policies. If you have any questions that aren't answered in these float notes, give us a call. When reading these notes, it is helpful to have a road map of Colorado / Wyoming nearby.

CUSTOM FISHING FLOATS

Designated a Gold Medal Trout fishery, the North Platte is one of those legendary stretches that is known throughout the west. Avid anglers speak about this one in whispers around the campfire. "The Home of Lunker Trout" offers both Browns and Rainbows.

The primary reason for this reputation is the river's inaccessibility. The only way to fish the entire corridor is by float fishing. Our CUSTOM fishing trips put two anglers and one guide in each raft. This allows you to fish downstream at your own pace. To allow for adequate time for fishing and full enjoyment of the canyon, it is best to plan a three-day trip.

The special regulations are 6 fish in possession, one only over 16". All fish 10 - 16" must be released. Fly and lures only. We encourage everyone to catch and release. A valid Wyoming fishing license is required. An out-of-state 1-5-day license can be purchased in Riverside, Wyoming on the first day of your trip if necessary. Please decide at the time of your booking to do this. We will be happy to give you some tips on types of lures, flies, etc. before your trip so you can stock up.

We also set up custom trout fishing trips in Colorado on some of the best trout rivers in the U.S. (Request a brochure and more information on other rivers floats).

We are Colorado's first licensed outfitter, licensed by Colorado's Division of Parks and Outdoor Recreation. If you would just like to bring personal paddling equipment and have us supply the boat only, that is also acceptable, and cuts the rental cost about 30-40% for you.

GUIDES

Our guides are experienced men and women skilled at handling their craft. They all have current first aid, CPR and Swiftwater Rescue training and have fulfilled guide qualification requirements in the states of Colorado, Utah, Texas and New Mexico. Trip Leaders have thousands of river miles of experience on all classes of rivers including all those Dvorak Expeditions run.

CAMPING

Campsites on the North Platte are limited and assigned by the Forest Service. They are on flat grassy benches nestled among the pines along the Canyon's steep slopes. Many have interesting side canyon hikes or accessibility to tributary streams for additional fishing.

On trips with Dvoraks, our river guides will provide instruction about disposal of human waste, the disposal of different types of trash, and other camp practices. Minimum-impact camping practices have enhanced these sites and you'll see few reminders other than footprints of previous visitors.

YOUR HEALTH

Our river trips are not strenuous, but they are a dramatic change in routine for most people. Although the trip is relaxing, the area is remote, so you should be in relatively good health. Please let us know when you return the release form if you have any health problems or concerns. If you have dietary restrictions, we'll gladly accommodate your needs with sufficient notice.

CARE OF THE ENVIRONMENT

RIVER USE ETHICS: The river areas are fragile environments that degrade without proper care by visitors. To protect the river, we use minimum impact camping techniques carrying out all trash and human waste, etc. The guides will instruct you in simple procedures that minimize the impact our group has on the canyon, and we request your cooperation.

We take pride in having the highest standard of river ethics possible.

FOOD

All on-river meals are provided, beginning with lunch on the first day and ending with lunch on the last day. The food is fresh and hearty, and the guides will prepare it for you while you enjoy the homey atmosphere generated around each river camp. You can set up your tent or go for an evening walk, relax, read, or join the guides in the kitchen if you so desire.

A typical three-day menu may include as a main course BBQ steak, baked fish, pork chops and dumplings, combination entrees, fresh vegetables and salads, Dutch-oven desserts, or breads, hors d'oeuvres, fresh fruits, fruit juices, coffee, tea and a complimentary glass of wine with dinner.

Lunches are buffet style with a wide variety of salads, sandwiches, fruit, cheeses, sliced meats, nuts, juices or sodas.

Breakfast includes fruit juice, eggs in all styles, special pancakes, French toast, melons, fruit, and cereals with milk, sausage, bacon, coffee, tea, or hot chocolate. We can accommodate special diets with notice and almost always the menu suits the vegetarian.

Although we carry ample supplies of juices, coffee, tea, and hot chocolate we encourage you to bring extra soda, beer, wine or other beverages you may prefer. You can arrange for us to pick up specific beverages for you prior to the trip or you can stock up before we head to the river. Any liquids you bring must be in unbreakable containers, limited to one case per person.

ALCOHOL

You're welcome to bring alcohol if it is in unbreakable containers. Discretion in alcohol consumption during whitewater days is strongly advised. If you would like us to pick up a particular beer and bring it to the river, please let us know and payment can be made for your purchase at the river put-in with your Trip Leader.

WEATHER

In the early season (April - May) the North Platte can experience cold, changeable high mountain weather. While most days are warm and sunny (50-80°) it is best to be prepared for both warm and cold weather.

During July, temperatures range from 70-80° and can be quite warm. Due to its high elevation, however, dramatic fluctuations are still possible this time of the year. It is prudent to come prepared for cooler weather and ask advice from your guide as to their recommendations when packing up the first morning of the trip.

PRE- AND POST-TRIP ARRANGEMENTS

The meeting place for a North Platte River trip is the Routt National Forest access site, located approximately 8 miles north of Cowdrey, Colorado on Hwy #125. As you cross the bridge over the North Platte River, look off to the northeast to see a portable trailer where the river ranger resides. There is a white forest service sign ½ mile north of the bridge which indicates the Routt Access turnoff. The rendezvous point and staging area is at the parking lot by the portable toilets and not at the boat ramp near the ranger's trailer. Your vehicle will be left in this parking lot unless we shuttle it to the take-out point. It is okay to go to the boat ramp to drop off equipment before parking your car if necessary. We will rendezvous with you at 8:00 a.m., the morning the trip begins. There is primitive camping available there if you would like to arrive the night before the trip starts. Alternate camping areas are Cowdrey Lakes State Park in Cowdrey or Six Mile Gap Forest Campground about 6 miles north of the Routt Access sign.

Post trip arrangements vary depending on length of trip, water level and weather conditions. We will either leave your vehicle at the Routt access parking lot and arrange van transport back at trip's end or do an early morning shuttle (about 1½ hours) on the first day of the trip and leave vehicles at the take-out point. In either instance, you can plan on being back at your vehicle late in the afternoon on the trip's final day.

First day's lunch is usually 1-2 miles down stream between noon and 2:00 p.m. therefore plan on eating a hearty breakfast before your morning meeting time. Walden is the closest town with cafes.

GETTING TO THE NORTH PLATTE

BY PLANE: Fly into Denver, Colorado (served by most major airlines) and rent a car for the drive to the Routt National Forest "River Access", approximately 3½ hours. Another option is to fly to Steamboat Springs airfield. With advanced notice and a transport fee, pick up at the airport can be arranged. Rental cars are available in Steamboat Springs. It is about 1½ hours from Steamboat to the put-in point.

BY CAR: From the North: From Riverside, Wyoming follow Hwy #230 south to the Colorado State line where it changes to Hwy #125. It is a 2-3-mile drive from the state line to the (white) Routt Forest Access turn off sign.

From the South: From Walden, Colorado follow Hwy #125 north 4 miles beyond Cowdrey to a "T" junction. Continue northwest on Hwy #125 about 4 miles to the (white) Routt Forest Access turn off sign.

TRAVEL ARRANGEMENTS AT TRIP'S END

You will be back at your vehicle mid to late afternoon of the last day of your trip. Although you can usually make a connecting flight home from Denver after 9:00 p.m. on the last day of the trip, we recommend you fly out the following morning in case inclement weather or other circumstances delay your arrival in Denver. Remember, "River Time" is unpredictable.
